SILVER SPONSOR-truRating

truRating is a mass point-of-payment rating system giving customers a voice and businesses the chance to listen and improve. By answering one simple, anonymous question via the payment terminal, customers can rate an aspect of their experience by pressing 0-9. This could be, for example, 'Please rate the service from 0-9'. Each rating feeds two websites. Business owners can see their ratings over time, compare their ratings against competitors and get detailed analytics linking customer sentiment with transactional spend and product purchases. And consumers have a recommendations site they can trust, showing validated ratings from genuine customers.
